1.About the author      Mild6s Vamos is a Hungarian novelist , screenwriter and talk show host and has taught at Yale University on a Fulbright fellowship. He served as The Nations East European correspondent , worked as consultant on the Oscar-winning film Mepbisto , and presented Hungarys most-watched cultural television show. He is one of the most read and respected writers in his native Hungary.      Vamos has received numerous awards for his plays , screenplays , novels and short stories , including the Hungarian Merit Award for lifetime achievement. The Book of Fathers is considered his most accomplished novel and has sold 200 , 000 copies in Hungary.

2.James A. Michener      James Albert Michener ( 1907-1997 ) , Pulitzer prize-winning author. Michener was an American author of more than 40 works , the majority of which are novels of sweeping sagas , covering the lives of many generations in a particular geographic locale. Best known for his novels , he wrote epic poetry and detailed works classified as fictional documentaries. Novels such as Hawaii ( 1959 ) and The Source ( 1965 ) typically open with the earliest history of an area - the geology , flora , and fauna—and ultimately encompass the people who settle and rule there. Not all of Micheners works are fictional. The Fires of Spring ( 1949 ) is autobiographical , as is his 1992 memoir , The Worm Is My Home. His last completed book was A Century of Sonnets ( 1997 ) . In later life Michener was a great philanthropist , contributing millions of dollars to universities and the Authors League Fund. Prior to his death , he donated 1 , 500 Japanese prints to the University of      Hawaii.
