<<我的父亲邓小平>>

内容概要

Acclaimed as the chief designer of China's reform and opening up to the outside world some 30 years ago, Deng Xiaoping was at the core of the second-generation leadership of the Communist Party of China. His ascent to power brought a fresh impetus to China's political life, as he introduced more practical and market-oriented policies into the country's economy. Today Deng Xiaoping Theory is still the banner of China's reforms. My Father Deng Xiaoping- The War Years is a revealing biographical work by Deng's youngest daughter, Deng Rong, who was also his personal assistant from 1989, and thus has the advantage of offering the first inside account of this enigmatic Chinese leader. Faithful to the historical facts, the book gives an insight into the first half of the personal and political life of Deng Xiaoping, as well as his path of growth, set against a myriad of historical figures and events long shrouded in mystery. The author has taken pains to provide a rich collection of his life stories, from his birth in a village in Sichuan Province, his work-study experience in France, his years in Shanghai as an underground revolutionary worker, his courtships and marriages, the ups and downs in his political and military career, and his rise as an important government official and a key leader of the Communist Party..... Deng's life story is continued in Deng Rong's second book Deng Xiaoping and the Cultural Revolution--A Daughter Recalls the Critical Years, published in 2002, also by the Foreign Languages Press.

作者简介

Deng Rong , nicknamed Maomao , was born in Southwest China's Chongqing City , the fourth child of Deng Xiaoping. After graduation from Girls Middle School attached to Beijing Normal University , she went to live and work for three years in a village on the loess plateau in the northern part of Northwest China's Shaanxi Province. Later , she graduated from Beijing Medical College ( today's Medical School of Peking University ) .

In the early 1980s , she worked for four years first as attache and then third secretary in the Consulate Section of the Chinese Embassy in Washington DC. Returning home , she worked in the Research Office of the General Office of the National People's Congress. Appointed deputy director of the office , she engaged in research into China's legislation and legislative systems. She was a deputy to the Eighth National People's Congress and an executive member of the Sixth Congress of the All-China Women's Federation. She is now vice-chairman of the China Association for International Friendly Contact , vice-chairman of the China Charity Federation , vice-chairman of the Sino-Russia Committee for Peace , Friendship and Development , and executive chairman of the Beijing Music Festival. Also a member of the Chinese Writers Association , she has published many articles in newspapers and magazines. In 1993 her biography My Father Deng Xiaoping was published in Chinese. It has been translated into the Japanese , Russian , English , French , Korean , Thai and Finnish languages. Her latest book , Deng Xiaoping and the Cultural Revolution , which appeared in Chinese in 2000 , has been translated into Korean and published in South Korea. The book's Russian and Japanese versions came out in 2002. The Thai , Italian and Spanish versions were also published.
