章节摘录

版权页： Far away was the faint blue heap of Nottingham. Between, the country lay under a haze of heat, with here and there a flag of colliery smoke waving. But near at hand, at the foot of the hill, across the deep-hedged high road, was only the silence of the old church and the castle farm, among their trees. The large view only made Geoffrey more sick. He looked away, to the wagons crossing the field below him, the empty cart like a big insect moving downhill, the load coming up; rocking like a ship, the brown head of the horse ducking, the brown knees lifted and planted strenuously. Geoffrey wished it would be quick. "Tha didna think--" Geoffrey started, coiled within himself, and looked down at the handsome lips moving in speech below the brown arms of his brother. "Tha didna think 'er'd be thur wi' me--or tha wouldna ha' left me to it," Maurice said, ending with a little laugh of excited memory. Geoffrey flushed with hate, and had an impulse to set his foot on that moving, taunting mouth, which was there below him. There was silence for a time, then, in a peculiar tone of delight, Maurice's voice came again, spelling out the words, as it were: "Ich bin klein, mein Herz ist rein, Ist niemand d'rin als Christallein." Maurice chuckled, then, convulsed at a twinge of recollection, keen as pain, he twisted over, pressed himself into the hay. "Can thee say thy prayers in German?" came his muffled voice. "I non want," growled Geoffrey. Maurice chuckled. His face was quite hidden, and in the dark he was going over again his last night's experiences. "What about kissing 'er under th' ear, Sonny," he said, in a curious, uneasy tone. He writhed, still startled and inflamed by his first contact with love. Geoffrey's heart swelled within him, and things went dark. He could not see the landscape. "An' there's just a nice two-handful of her bosom," came the low, provocative tones of Maurice, who seemed to be talking to himself. The two brothers were both fiercely shy of women, and until this hay harvest, the whole feminine sex had been represented by their mother and in presence of any other women they were dumbly out.
