<<科学制度反腐论>>

内容概要

The development of human history is similar to a river running unceasingly . In this river , each dynasty plays a leading role and follows a life cycle around prosperity , corruption and decline . Throughout the ebb and flow of each dynasty , we found that , when one dynasty changes to another and one social system changes to another , corruption always becomes a representative social problem , which acts as a catalyst or an accelerator . From China ' S first feudal dynasty(the Qin Dynasty)to the last(the Qing Dynasty) , from the decline of the ancient Roman Empire to the drastic changes in Eastern Europe , this life cycle seems to be a historical law proved over and over again . As a result , all classes , political parties and countries wish to avoid the life cycle caused by corruption . Corruption is a sad melody of history and an enchanting spell of power . In human ' S political life , neither organizations nor individuals can escape from the erosion of corruption . Though has civilization for five thousand years and has made brilliant achievements , corruption existed throughout China ' S history in a variety of forms ; Therefore , some people say that China ' S Twenty—Four Histories is a battle history between corruption and anti corruption .
