章节摘录

Im always dreaming of having this kind of dog. At first we would scare each other. Slowly , we got used to each other. It likes me very much. It even follows me into the bathroom when I take a shower. Now I can tell when the dog needs to go out , or when he just sees a few birds in our yard. I give him water , I walk him , and I teach him something. I am glad I have a dog around. I am happy every morning when I wake up and hear his little feet clicking across the floor. We are a good match and we understand each other. When I come back , he will come to the door to meet me. When he clicks my shoes , I know its time to open the door of the bathroom for him. And yes , my good friend will go with me wherever I want to go and whenever , he is very happy to go with me.
