章节摘录

Saturday, June 24 My friend Carolina and I arrived in Frankfurt, Germany, from London this afternoon for the World Cup. We have tickets for the Australia-Italy game on Monday. Of course, Carolina wants the Italian team to win (shes from Milan). Not me. Go Australia!

Sunday, June 25 Twelve cities in Germany are hosting the World Cup games. In each city, there is a "fan lest" (a place where people can watch the games on large screens for free). Theres also food, music, and dancing. This afternoon, Carolina and I went to the fan lest at the River Main here in Frankfurt. Fans everywhere are wearing the colors of their country. Its a lot of fun. We watched England play against Ecuador. When Beckham scored the winning goal for England, everyone went crazy!

Tonight, were meeting Carolinas friends (they came over from Italy for tomorrows game). Were going dancing together.

Monday, June 26 Today was the Australia-Italy game. Australia lost in the last minute when the Italians got a penalty kick (score: 1-0). It was so unfair!!! What a BAD call! Oh well. Its just a game, right?
