章节摘录

版权页：插图： "It could be Aplixa who is trying to find me," said RK-5. "But whoever it is will know how to find Aplixa." "I could set my reverse tracking," suggested RK-5. "Then we could find out who is sending the tracking signals." Leo agreed, and RK-5 turned on his reverse tracking. A lower beep tone came from RK-5. As Leo changed directions with RK-5 in his hand, the beeping got louder or softer. Leo noticed for the first time that they were on a large step. The steps were arranged in a circle, like in a football stadium. They seemed to be made of a kind of red plastic. Leo was pleased that the beeps were leading them up the steps rather than down. The steps went so far down that he couldn't see the bottom. At last, they reached the top step. All around, there were more circles. Some of them had steps that went high into a purple sky; others had steps that led down into bottomless pits.
