内容概要

We welcome you all for participating in China Display/Asia Display 2011, to be held in Kunshan, China. Asia Display is one of the three premier display research conferences that rotates among the countries in Asia. The other two are Eurodisplay and International Display Research Conference (IDRC) which rotates among the countries in the Americas. This year Asia Display is significant in that it is colisted with China Display for the first time. It is a momentus event of great importance because of the world's attention on the migration of display manufacturing to China. A proliferation of LCD manufacturing plants in China is expected and the entire world is keenly watching the development as it unfolds.
