内容概要

*This book offers you a way to learn and practice Chinese language skills in a variety of social settings, such as "introducing yourself", "traveling by air", "getting through customs", "looking for missing luggage", "hiring a car", "buying train tickets", "asking about a travel agent", "lodging", "dining", and "changing money". The completed dialogues are provided in both English and Chinese and are easy to access and use.

*In addition to daily conversation, the third and fourth sections of this book present useful travel information, including commonly used telephone numbers, an introduction to famous Chinese attractions, tips on transportation, accommodation, shopping and so on.

*This book is a must for tourists traveling in China.
